Beginner Nazra Practice — From Qaida to Confident Quran Reading

The next step after your Qaida —
real Quranic words, phrases and Surahs,
with daily reading practice.

For English-speaking kids (ages 6–12) and beginner adults.

UK · USA · CANADA · AUSTRALIA

Welcome — How to Use This Pack

You Finished Your Qaida — Now Let's READ!

This pack is the next step after your Noorani or Madani Qaida. There are no long lessons here — just lots and lots of reading practice. Real Quranic words, phrases, and Surahs.

How to use this pack:

1. Start from Section 1 and go in order.
2. Read aloud whenever possible so a parent or tutor can hear how you are reading.
3. Read each exercise 3 times before ticking the box.
4. Aim for short, consistent practice rather than irregular long sessions.
5. It's okay to go slow. Smooth and correct beats fast and wrong.

For parents and tutors: Let the student try each word before helping. Mark tricky words and revisit them tomorrow. Praise effort and consistency.

SECTION 1 — Letter & Harakat Revision

Quick Warm-Up (You Already Know This!)

You finished your Qaida — well done! This section is just a quick warm-up. Read everything aloud. If any line feels hard, say it 3 times slowly.

Reading Drill 1 — Letter Recognition

Read each letter aloud, left to right, top to bottom. Name it, then make its sound.

Row 1 ☐

ا ب ت ث ج ح خ

Row 2 ☐

د ذ ر ز س ش ص

Row 3 ☐

ض ط ظ ع غ ف ق

Row 4 ☐

ك ل م ن و ه ء ي

Reading Drill 2 — Harakat Recognition

Same letter, three sounds. Read each triplet without stopping.

Set 1 ☐

بُ بُ بُ

Set 2 ☐

تُ تُ تُ

Set 3 ☐

نُ نُ نُ

Set 4 ☐

كُ كُ كُ

Set 5 ☐

Exercise — Find the Sound

Your tutor says a sound (for example, “bi!”). Point to the matching letter carefully and accurately.

Sound hunt ☐

بُ تِ نَ كُ مَ بَ تِ نِ

How to practise at home: 10 minutes daily beats one long weekly session. Read aloud, let the student try before correcting, and celebrate consistency.

SECTION 2 — Connected Letter Reading

In the Quran, letters join together. You already learned the shapes in your Qaida — now let's READ them. Start with 2 letters, then 3, then longer. Read each line 3 times.

Can I Read This? — Self Check

After each drill, tick honestly:

- ☐ I can read this without help
- ☐ I needed one correction
- ☐ I need more practice

Parent/Tutor note: If “need more practice” is ticked, revisit the matching section (4-7) before moving on. There is no rush — solid foundations make everything after this easy.

SECTION 9 — Common Beginner Reading Mistakes

Fix-It Guide

Everyone makes these mistakes at first — even adults! The trick is to notice them. For each one: what happened, how to spot it, and a simple fix.

Mistake 1 — Mixing Up Look-Alike Letters

What happened? You read س as ش, or ب as ت — letters that look alike got swapped.

How to notice: The word sounds strange or unfamiliar.

Practice tip: Slow down on dots. Count the dots before you read: ب (1 below), ت (2 above), ث (3 above).

Mistake 2 — Skipping a Letter

What happened? You jumped over a letter in the middle of a word.

How to notice: The word feels too short, or your tutor stops you.

Practice tip: Touch each letter with your finger as you read. One finger-tap per letter — no skipping!

Mistake 3 — Missing a Harakah

What happened? You read the letters but ignored a Fatha, Kasra, or Dammah.

How to notice: The word sounds flat or wrong.

Practice tip: Read the harakat FIRST, then the letter. Say the vowel out loud: “Fatha — ba!”

Mistake 4 — Rushing Through a Word

What happened? You read so fast that Sukoon, Shaddah, or Madd got lost.

How to notice: Your tutor says “slow down!” or the word sounds squeezed.

Practice tip: Put a finger under each word and move it slowly. The finger sets the speed, not your excitement!

Mistake 5 — Stopping in the Wrong Place

What happened? You paused in the middle of a phrase where there is no natural stop.

How to notice: The phrase sounds broken into pieces.

Practice tip: Look ahead to the end of the phrase before you start. Read it as one smooth line.

Mistake 6 — Repeating Until Right

What happened? You keep re-reading a word until it sounds correct — this is actually GOOD!

How to notice: You are doing it right now.

Practice tip: Keep doing it! Self-correction is how readers are made. Just try not to guess — look carefully each time.

SECTION 10 — Quranic Phrase Practice

From Words to Phrases

Now connect words into real Quranic phrases. Read each selected phrase smoothly. Follow your parent or tutor's guidance about where to pause.

☐ Read smoothly

Surah An-Nas (114:4)

مِنْ شَرِّ الْوَسْوَاسِ الْخَنَّاسِ

☐ Read smoothly

Phrase Practice — Self Check

After reading the phrases above, tick honestly:

- ☐ I read the short phrases smoothly
- ☐ I read the medium phrases with little help
- ☐ I need more practice with the longer phrases

Parent/Tutor note: If the longer phrases are still difficult, practise them in smaller parts first, then join the parts together. There is no rush — smooth phrase reading grows with daily practice.

Tips for Smooth Phrase Reading

- Read the whole phrase in your head first, then read it aloud.
- Do not stop at every word — let the words flow together.
- If you make a mistake, go back to the start of the phrase and try again.
- Ask your parent or tutor to read the phrase first, then copy how they read it.
